

Fort Stoddard, AL

F

Dec. 16, 1811

The Western Intelligencer
Feb. 21, 1812

NEW-ORLEANS, December 26

A letter from Fort Stoddard mentions, that on the morning of the 16th inst. two shocks of an earthquake had been felt. This is precisely the time it was felt at Natchez. It is evident that our being on an island and resting on the water, prevented us from feeling part of the shock.