

Letter of Joseph P. Howe to William W. Woodward dated April 11, 1812

We have had numerous, & a number of very considerable agitations in the Earth, several persons were much alarmed. The (?) party, in particular, were in the general very much terrified, but their panick was soon over because sudden destruction did not overtake them.

Comment

Letter was found in Wilson Collection at the King Library of the University of Kentucky.